In connection with the government's current campaign against the opposition, it is reported that the following precautionary measures have been taken:

1. Some 234,000 names have been catalogued in a special file by twelve employees of the National Gendarmerie as being "opponents of General Peron's Government." This cataloguing of enemies of the present government has been going on for the past five months, and all the names are on file at the Gendarmerie headquarters at Calle San Martin.
2. All Army officers known to be opposed to Peron are now forced to attend a special class in the War College (Escuela Superior de Guerra) known as "Seccion Seminario" where they spend most of their time in research work and study, and thus have less time to devote to anti-Peron intrigues.
